

PRACTICE DIRECTION NUMBER 23 OF 2015

SUPREME COURT OF QUEENSLAND

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE OFFENCES

This Practice Direction applies where an application is made for a previous offence to be recorded or entered as a domestic violence offence on a person's criminal history pursuant to s.12A (3) of the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992.

1. The Director of Public Prosecutions (DPP) is to file the application (if in writing) and any material to be relied on, in the registry three (3) business days before the matter is heard by the court.
2. The DPP is to provide the defendant with a copy of the application, any other material on which it is intended to rely and the draft order three (3) business days before the matter is heard by the court.
3. A written application is to be in the approved form and the draft order is to be in the approved form.
4. The DPP is to provide an electronic copy of the application and the draft order to the sentencing judge's associate before the hearing.
5. The DPP is to provide one copy of the draft order to the court at the hearing.
6. The registry will ensure the signed and dated order is forwarded to Offender Management by emailing to OMCourtResults@police.qld.gov.au.

Correction of Error

7. If a party identifies that an error has been made in recording or entering an offence as a domestic violence offence, an application and any supporting material is to be filed with the registry and served on the other parties at least three business days before the day on which the application is heard.
8. The application must be in writing and parties are requested to use Criminal Practice Rules, form 1, general form of application.

Catherine Holmes
Chief Justice
27 November 2015