Notice to Appellant

- 1. This notice must be filed in a District Court registry under section 222 of the Justices Act 1886 or the District Court of Queensland Act 1967. If the District Court registry is more than 50 kilometres from the place where the order was made then you may give your notice of appeal to the clerk of the court (Magistrates Court) where the order was made. If you are in custody you may give the notice of appeal to the prison's general manager.
- 2. If this notice is not filed in the District Court registry or given to the clerk of the court or given to the prison's general manager within 1 month after the date of the making of the appealed order then you must also complete form 27B (notice of application for extension of time within which to appeal) and attach it to this notice.
- 3. If your address for service or any other contact details change you must file in the District Court registry a notice stating the new address for service and contact details.
