1.3 A Magistrate is entitled to travelling allowances set out in DJAG Directive No. 9/09 Domestic Travelling and Relieving Expenses, as amended from time to time, as if the Magistrate were a public service officer.

1.4 To minimise the impost of GST, Magistrates are encouraged to book accommodation through the Department’s purchasing officer and take only the meals and incidentals components as a cash allowance.

1.5 A claim for a prescribed travelling allowance does not need to be supported by itemized accounts.

2 Actual expenses

2.1 Where accommodation charges incurred by a Magistrate exceed the prescribed allowance, a Magistrate may be reimbursed for actual expenses considered reasonable by the Chief Magistrate.

2.2 Where the costs of meals incurred by a Magistrate exceed the prescribed allowance, a Magistrate may be reimbursed for actual expenses considered reasonable by the Chief Magistrate.

2.3 However, if reimbursement for actual expenses is claimed in lieu of a travelling allowance, all expenses must be detailed and itemised showing separate amounts for meals and accommodation.

2.4 A voucher should be prepared within 14 days after travel verifying the claim made or the expenditure incurred and seeking reimbursement of the same.

3 Spouse or partner accommodation costs

3.1 Unless specifically approved by the Director-General, the accommodation or other daily expenses of a Magistrate’s spouse or partner accompanying the Magistrate whilst on official travel will not be met by the Department.

3.2 “Partner” is defined as ‘any person who lives with the Magistrate on a genuine domestic basis as the partner of the Magistrate.’
4 Advances

4.1 In most circumstances a Magistrate is not to be provided with advance travel allowances.

4.2 However, in the instance of a Magistrate being required to travel on urgent matters, an advance payment may be authorised by the Chief Magistrate.

Funds advanced and spent not in accordance with the provisions of Schedule A must be refunded.
Schedule B

Air travel

1. Travel on official duty

   1.1 Where a Magistrate is required to travel on official duty to a place that is more than four hours travel by motor vehicle from his or her headquarters, the Magistrate may travel by air.

   1.2 Where a Magistrate is required to travel on official duty, and it is more economical to travel by air than by motor vehicle, the Magistrate may travel by air.

   1.3 The economy of travelling by air compared to travelling by motor vehicle must consider:

      • any reduction in daily travel allowance which can be achieved by reducing travel time
      • any reduction in private motor vehicle allowance or departmental vehicle running costs
      • any increase in taxi or vehicle hire expenses which would be incurred during the trip
      • any pre-existing arrangements for the private charter of aircraft for remote circuits.

   1.4 Where a Magistrate is entitled to travel on official duty by air, the Magistrate is entitled to travel at Business Class rates (including excess baggage charges) where available.

The telecommunication allowance will increase in line with annual Brisbane (All Groups) Consumer Price Index increases.

1.2 A claim for a telecommunications allowance must be accompanied by evidence setting out the nature of the expense and payment. Where payment has been made by electronic means, for example using a telephone or internet payment system, a notation of the date of payment and receipt number, or other written endorsement of the Magistrate, is sufficient evidence of payment.

1.3 A claim for reimbursement must be made within one month of the payment being made by the Magistrate. Reimbursement is deducted from the Magistrate’s available entitlement for the financial year in which the payment was made regardless of when the expense was incurred or reimbursement sought. The telecommunications allowance is not cumulative. Any unclaimed allowances do not carry over to subsequent financial years.
