

Evidence admitted<sup>1</sup> against one defendant only

---

More than one defendant is on trial. Each is entitled to have his case decided solely on the evidence admissible against him. Some of the evidence in this case cannot be considered against all.

The (testimony) (exhibit about which) you (are about to hear) (just heard), (describe testimony or exhibit), can be considered only in the case against the defendant (insert name). You must not consider that evidence when you are deciding if the case has been proved against the other defendant(s).

---

<sup>1</sup> This instruction may be adapted where the evidence is admissible only for a limited purpose.